THE GOLD MEN TO BLAME.

The gold worshippers endeavor to create the impression that the Populists particularly and the silver men generally are to blame for the present depression in business. They have referred to the advocates of silver re-monetization as "anarchists" and "calamity howlers" because they foretold what the inevitable result of the demonetization of one-half the money metal of the world would be. They remind one of those who attributed the severe storms of last winter and the backward spring to Foster, because he predicted those occurrences, though he had no more to do with causing them than the silver men had with bringing about the present financial stringency.

But the gold worshippers cannot disclaim all responsibility for the present depressed condition of business. They have been for years proclaiming one-half the money of the country dishonest. They invariably referred to the standard dollar as the 70-cent or 80-cent cart-wheel dollar, and asserted that there was no demand for such money. They endeavored to make the working-man believe that he was cheated out of one-third or one-half of his wages when paid in silver dollars, and did all in their power to prejudice the people against their use. Through the columns of the metropolitan press they proclaimed day after day that the use of silver as money was repudiation and that the coinage of the metal must cease, as it was discreditable to so great a country as the United States to give 70-cent dollars a legal tender power of 100 cents.

Thousands were deceived by this gold-trust sophistry and withdrew their gold from circulation, fearing that if they continued to loan it or leave it on deposit in banks they would be paid in depreciated money. In addition to this, nearly one hundred millions in gold was sent to Europe to settle the balance of trade in that country against the United States and to pay interest on American securities held by Europeans. The fear caused by the gold-trust saboteur, at a time when the amount of money per capita in circulation was not sufficient for commercial purposes, caused a sudden contraction of the volume of money, which has demoralized trade, sent the prices of farm and other products to bedrock, caused hundreds of business suspensions and thrown hundreds of thousands out of employment and created a panic unparalleled in the history of the country, all for the purpose of making gold, of which there is not sufficient to pay the interest, much less the principal, of the world's indebtedness, the sole standard of value.

The contractionists, not the free coinage advocates, are responsible for the present deplorable condition of the country. They are the individuals whose howls against silver caused the "lack of confidence" to which the president alludes in his message and who, if they have their way in congress, will stop the purchase, as they have the coinage of silver, and issue bonds to increase the national debt without adding a dollar to the circulation.

ALIGNING THEMSELVES.

The friends and enemies of free coinage, in and out of congress are aligning themselves for the great financial battle. Bland, a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat, declares in the house of representatives that western Democrats will bid good bye to eastern Democrats unless the latter cease their opposition to silver, and his words are echoed by tens of thousands.

Governor McConnell of Idaho, in his opening address in the silver convention at Ketchum in that state last Monday said he is a Republican, but he wants it known that if the representatives of his party in congress do not vote for free coinage he will cut loose from the party, and the convention applauded the sentiment.

The paramount issue of the day is the financial question. It overshadows the tariff and leaves it in such deep shade that neither protectionists nor reformers see it. The efforts of the goldbug Republicans in congress to bring it into the light by attributing the present financial crisis to the fact, as the people are being educated by hard times and know that the scarcity of money caused by the demonetization of silver, not the fear that the duty on tin plate will be reduced, is the cause of the business depression.

Sherman endorses the president's message and Lodge, the author of the force bill, joins with Gorman of Maryland in advocating the repeal of the Sherman law, while Bowers of California and Bland of Missouri cross party lines and pledge themselves to the party that favors free coinage.

One by one the goldbugs are falling beneath the arguments of the silver men, says the San Francisco Post. Senator Vest favors the white metal, and it is said that Senator Hoar will line up alongside the Missourian. In the division on the repeal of the Sherman act there are likely to be some great surprises—and grave scandals.

The Denver News says Bland has served an ultimatum upon the goldbug Democrats. The south and west are preparing to declare their political independence.

The wall street Democrats will soon be training with John Sherman in the goldbug party.

IOWA REPUBLICANS.

They Claim the Present Financial Distress is Due to the Democrats

MORE FAILURES RECORDED.

Nebraska's Silver Champion—Cholera in Berlin.

IOWA REPUBLICANS.

They Hold the Democrats Responsible for the Present Distress.

DES MOINES, August 16.—The Republican state convention assembled this morning at 11 o'clock.

After considerable wrangling over business and a long wait on the committee on resolutions, I. D. Jackson of Des Moines was nominated for governor.

The platform was adopted after a three-hour debate. After declaring that the present distress in financial and business circles is due to the Democratic party the platform declares that it is of prime importance to all American people that a sound currency shall be maintained of uniform purchasing power, and favoring the maintaining of both gold and silver as unlimited legal tender for the payment of debts.

In doing this congress should provide that every dollar, whether of gold or silver or paper, shall be kept of equal value.

Opposition to state bank money was expressed, also any re-establishment of that local shimplaster and wildcat currency which proved so disastrous in the past.

Cheap and depreciated money of low purchasing power is denounced as an especial hardship upon the poor and all who receive wages. The administration of Benjamin Harrison is approved, and the belief expressed that assaults made upon the system of pensions by this administration, because in a few cases pensions were alleged to be fraudulently obtained, is a pretext to attack and destroy the whole system and is a menace to the honor of our brave and deserving national defenders.

The platform declares that prohibition is no test of Republicans, and rather dodges the question by relegating the whole matter to the general assembly, expressing confidence in that body to enact satisfactory laws to suppress or govern the liquor traffic.

Results of the Financial Stringency.

CINCINNATI, August 17.—The Standard Wagon Company, the largest of its kind in the United States, assigned this morning to J. Grant H. Burrows, Assets, $1,200,000; liabilities, $700,000.

Dubuque, August 17.—The First National bank, one of the oldest institutions in the city, with a capital of $200,000, suspended this morning. The last statement showed deposits of something over $520,890. The failure is due to withdrawals.

Pittsburg, August 17.—The Oliver Iron and Steel Company, one of the largest concerns in the country, went into the hands of a receiver to-day on the application of the National Tube Works Company of New Jersey and E. C. Converse of New York. The capital of the company is $1,600,000. The apparent indebtedness is $600,000 and the bonded indebtedness $535,000. H. W. Oliver was appointed receiver. The company has extensive plants in Pittsburg and Allegheny and employs 4,000 men. It is also largely interested in coke and natural gas. Its sales aggregate $5,500,000 annually.

Congressman Bowers' Views.

SACRAMENTO, August 17.—Deputy County Clerk L. M. Landsborough, has received a letter from Congressman W. W. Bowers, acknowledging the receipt of a resolution of the People's party of Sacramento, in regard to the silver question, with a note from Mr. Landsborough to the effect that the latter would look to Mr. Bowers to stand by the people on this silver proposition.

Mr. Bowers writes: "You can rely upon it that I shall do so, if there is not another member of congress from California to stand with me. I have no hesitancy now and never have had, of stating my position on the silver question. The free coinage of silver is the only solution."

Gresham Dissatisfied.

WASHINGTON, August 16.—Secretary Gresham is said to be dissatisfied with the findings of the Bering sea tribunal in regard to the regulations established, and it is understood that his views are shared by other cabinet officers. The regulations are interpreted to mean that the United States will have entailed on the coast and worry of patrolling Bering sea without benefit to its sealers, while Russia, Japan and perhaps other nations reap the harvest, the regulations binding only on Great Britain and this country.

Cholera Spreading.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 17.—Official returns indicate a further increase of cholera. The epidemic is especially severe in Moscow, where 166 new cases and 67 deaths from the disease were reported from August 8th to August 12th.

Nebraska's Silver Champion.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—The financial discussion in the house took on a deeper interest than any occasion since the opening of the silver debate. Wm. J. Bryan, the eloquent young congressman of Nebraska, added greater laurels to his reputation as an orator and made a free coinage speech which, in the opinion of many, surpassed the great tariff speech which gave him fame two years ago. For nearly three hours Bryan held the interested attention of the house and galleries, and every interruption to which he was subject only gave opportunities for those brilliant bits of repartee for which he is so famous.

Alarmed at Berlin.

NEW YORK, August 17.—A World cable from Berlin says: The official announcement that three cases of Asiatic cholera had appeared in the east and has caused great alarm. It appears that two Polish workmen named Kynal and Garun, and a woman named Midleriska, fell ill. All three lived on a different street, but were much together as the woman was Garun's sweetheart and Kynal's half sister. Kynal died on the 5th.

Banks Resume.

DENVER, August 17.—The American National Bank, which suspended on July 15, resumed business this morning.

The National Bank of Commerce reopened business to-day with almost a hundred per cent. of its liabilities on hand. Three more of the suspended banks are expected to open by September 1.

All Quiet at Bombay.

BOMBAY, August 17.—There was no renewal of rioting to-day, but the shops are still closed and families are leaving the city with their personal effects. The natives refuse to resume their occupations till after to-morrow—Mahomedan prayer day.

Further advises state that the rioting in Bombay is unfounded.

Telegraphic Notes.

About $4,000,000 in gold was received in New York yesterday from Europe.

The House yesterday discussed the Silver question and adjourned as a mark of respect to the memory of Representative Logan Chipman, of Detroit, Michigan, whose death was announced.

The boiler of a threshing exploded yesterday, on the Smith and Currier ranch, near Chico, California, blowing the fireman to pieces and injuring the engineer and two others.

About 5,000 men, who are out of employment, attacked Waihalla Hall in New York City yesterday, smashed the plate glass window, forced the door and took possession of the place. The police party succeeded in dislodging the crowd.

The Senate Finance Committee will probably report favorably on the unconditional repeal bill this morning and ask the Senate to fix a day for the vote, perhaps within a day or two after the vote in the House. The Committee agreed upon all but phraseology bill which will contain a declaration favorable to bimetalism.

In Judge Levy's Court, San Francisco, proceedings have been instituted to test the jurisdiction of Sheriff McDade, who was appointed receiver of the Pacific Bank. George H. Maxwell filed an affidavit and asked for an order for the sheriff to show cause why he should not deliver certain notes and certificates to H. W. Chapman, Maxwell's client, without delay or further deliberation.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg and doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

For Scrofula

"After suffering for about twenty-five years from scrofulous sores on the legs and arms, trying various medical courses without benefit, I began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and a wonderful cure was the result. Five bottles sufficed to restore me to health."—Bonifacio Lopez, 327 E. Commerce st., San Antonio, Texas.

Catarrh

"My daughter was afflicted for nearly a year with catarrh. The physicians being unable to help her, my pastor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I followed his advice. Three months of regular treatment with Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills completely restored my daughter's health."—Mrs. Louise Rielle, Little Canada, Ware, Mass.

Rheumatism

"For several years, I was troubled with inflammatory rheumatism, being so bad at times as to be entirely helpless. For the last two years, whenever I felt the effects of the disease, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and have not had a spell since."—E. T. Hanbrough, Elk Run, Va.

Bichloride Institute.

The cures performed in Reno by the Western Bichloride Institute are rapidly silencing all opposition to the institute and its method of treating those addicted to the liquor and kindred habits. Nearly every week one or more patients are being turned out cured—new men in body, in appetite, in will power. Many of them have been lifelong drinkers and are well known in this community, and to-day they are again free men with absolutely no desire for liquor in any form. The institute makes no flourish of triumph but goes quietly on in its mission of destroying what is known as the alcohol disease.

The Baby Liked It.

The hopelessness of combating individual stupidity with the most enlightened sanitary measures which the authorities can provide was evidenced the other day on a Grand street ferryboat. A woman came into the cabin carrying a baby of perhaps 9 months and leading a little toddler of about 2 years. Both children, as well as the mother, were comfortably clothed, but the children's faces were pale and unhealthily looking, as if unwholesome food and ill ventilated sleeping quarters were their portion. The former undoubtedly was, for each child was munching a large slice of not too ripe, too clean watermelon, bought from one of the peddling fruit stands which abound in that locality. The baby was kept at his gages with his toothless gums until he had secured several bits, which he swallowed with gusto.

At once the effect upon his tender or at least full stomach, a passenger, who was a woman, approached the mother.

"Don't you afraid to let your baby eat that?" she asked, pointing to the fruit.

"No, no," answered the mother, "he likes it," she said.

"Don't you make him sick, he is such a young baby?" persisted the other.

"Oh, no," answered the mother good naturedly. "He's used to it and peaches," she added, with an air of pride at his digestive prowess.

And the other woman could only return to her seat vanquished, while the watermelon pursued its colicky way.—New York Times.

Education That Is Not Practiced.

The folly of mechanical juggling with figures is shown by the following recent experience of a school official. In a school of 87 pupils of mixed grades the following question was asked: "It is now 10 minutes after 10. What time was it five minutes ago?" Nineteen out of the 87 pupils failed to give a correct answer. A similar line of humiliating failures occurred when questions equally simple were asked.

The trouble was not that the children could not subtract, but that they could make no practical use of what they had learned. They could use figures with more or less facility when told exactly how to arrange them. When certain "sums" were set, a fair showing was made. But the fact that the end of doing such mechanical work should be to master the application of a principle to the practical everyday affairs of life was far beyond their comprehensions.—Boston Traveller.

Boys in Church Choirs.

Boy choirs, trained as such singers are trained in Great Britain and in Germany, were almost unknown in this country 10 years ago and are not common now, though there are several admirably trained boy choirs in New York. When the time comes for the choir boy's voice to change, the conscientious choromaster bids him rest in order that his natural male voice may not be spoiled for singing. The task of teaching the lads to sing in the artificial manner required is most laborious, and the earnings of learners are trifling. Later a well trained choromaster may earn from $300 to $500 per year by his Sunday work. The choir boy of the rural parish is usually an unschooled imp, chosen for his golden hair and cherubic face.—New York Sun.

ON A CAMPING TRIP.

Hastings' Wind Jammers in Pursuit of Pleasure.

Monday morning last Hastings' band left Reno on a camping trip to Carnelian Springs, on the northern shore of Lake Tahoe. The hour set for departure was 4 o'clock sharp, but, as is usual in such cases, it was 5:30 before they were fairly on the road.

The first unpleasantness occurred this side of Leighton's, the front spring of the baggage wagon breaking. It was soon mended, however, by the "mechanical genius" of the band aided to some extent by a log of wood and a piece of wire. This caused a delay of about an hour.

Just at the state line the second delay occurred. It was found necessary to make a change in the team on the passenger wagon. While the horses were being unhitched one of the wheelers, becoming frightened by a sight of the bass drummer's hat, stamped the whole team. After much trouble and still more hard running on the part of the harmony section the team was finally secured. Each man expressed his opinion in his own peculiar way, and there were quite a variety of ways, too.

The only incident of note after ascending the Dog valley grade was the shooting of a woodpecker by the "pin-fire" gun. The charge of shot took all the feathers off the bird; didn't leave on him even enough fuzz to balance himself with on the ground. The shooter felt sorry, but it didn't do him any good, as the woodpecker climbed the tree with one leg and its bill.

Truckee was reached at 2:30, and the teams rested until 4 o'clock, when the trip was resumed. The outfit caught up with the steam wagon about five miles from Truckee, and the boys all piled on wherever they could stick, relieving the passenger wagon of about a ton of humanity.

After passing the mill three of the boys tried to save a mile by taking a short cut—but they didn't. They only tramped about five long mountain miles through the thick underbrush, and never left the wagon after they caught it again.

It was nearly midnight when the party, tired, dusty and hungry, reached the Carnelian Springs hotel, where they found an excellent hot supper, bath and beds for the whole party. This was a most agreeable surprise, as the boys expected to have to unpack and get their own meals. J. T. Quick, the proprietor of the hotel, true to his generous nature, had forestalled them in every way possible, and the boys are eloquent in singing his praises.

The scenery around the springs is magnificent. The tall, steep mountains to the north are covered with a dense growth of timber and underbrush, while the view on the lake to the south is very pretty.

Tuesday morning the boys had a two hour practice in one of the prettiest groves the writer has ever seen. They intend to keep it up as long as they stay there—about ten days.

On the way back the band will stop in Truckee one night and give a concert and dance.

A MISTAKEN IDEA.

The University does not Conduct a Free Assaying Department, but one for the Free Analysis of Soils, Mineral Ores and Water.

The Independent would like to know of what benefit the Assaying department of the State University is to the people of the state. One of our citizens about the 1st of June, sent a sample of ore to the University to be assayed and up to this time has not heard from it. The Regents should shake up the assaying department of the University.—Elko Independent.

There is no public assaying department connected with the State University at present and never has been. Assaying is taught at the University, and the students in the mining course under the professors do a great deal of assaying in their work, but it is for their education and not for the benefit of the public.

There is, however, connected with the University a department for the free analysis of soils, mineral ores and water, to which any citizen has the right to send samples of such for free analysis, and expect returns within a reasonable time. But analyzing soils, mineral ores and water is entirely different from assaying; the returns in the former case giving qualitatively and quantitatively every element composing the substance sent. To work out an analysis requires all the way from one week to three months time.

The object of the analytical department is to determine whether there are other minerals of value in the state than gold or silver.

Should the University assay for gold and silver without charge, it would interfere with the legitimate business of the assayers of the state. But none of these gentlemen are prepared to analyze mineral ores to any considerable extent. And the price of an analysis has always been as great, from $25 to $250, as to prevent the prospector who may have discovered a mineral which might be really very valuable, from ever determining what it is, and thus receiving the benefit of the discovery.

IMPORTING TEACHERS.

The Government Following the Example of School Boards.

"Mr. J. R. Graham, of Pacific Junction, Iowa, arrived last evening and will proceed to the Pyramid lake reservation to-day to take the position now held by Miss Penrose as teacher. The change was brought about by civil service. Miss Penrose having been denied an examination on account of being too young. The young lady is thoroughly competent for the place but thus one by one are the federal positions in Nevada being filled by strangers and our boys and girls disheartened. Mr. Graham comes with the best of credentials, the above is nothing to his discredit but there is seemingly something very wrong somewhere."

The above is taken from the Wadsworth Dispatch which had nothing to say against the importation of a principal for the Wadsworth public school. The federal government is simply falling into the example of several Nevada schools boards, who send abroad for teachers when there are graduates of the state university and normal school here at home seeking such places. Other things being equal the preference should be given to Nevadans for positions in the state by the federal government and school boards, but for some reason in many instances both prefer teachers from other states.

Ventilation.

Not the politician's sort, but the fresh air you need. Health and comfort often suffer from this kind of ventilation. Never sleep in a poorly ventilated room. You will wake up unrefreshed, out of sorts and bilious. Perhaps you can't improve the ventilation, but you can take Simmons Liver Regulator for that torpid liver, to keep it active against the ill effects of a close atmosphere which causes that languid feeling.

Two men boarded the Frisco train due at St. Louis yesterday morning, forced their way into the express car, overpowered the messenger, compelled him to open the safe, which they then rifled and made their escape.

Dan Boyd says that it was not the Methodist picnic that took him to Steamboat, but that he remembered the fact that the twentieth anniversary of Charlie Stoddard's marriage occurred on the 18th, day of August, and that he went to the springs to notify Charlie of the fact.

The losses by fire throughout the United States and Canada during the month of July aggregated $12,118,700, which is considerably in excess of the same month in 1892. The total losses of the first seven months of the year are $98,101,300, against $76,987,250 in 1892 and $79,247,370 in 1891.

The Independent says a representative of the railroad company will be in Elko to meet the chairman of the board of county commissioners and representatives of the cattlemen to lay out the line of fences to be built along the railroad track and locate the public roads.

THE RISING GENERATION.

The Necessity for a Reform School in Nevada.

This is a question on which the Chronicle would be happy to publish the views of parents and guardians. A representative of this paper recently had occasion to visit the state prison at Carson. It was a sad sight to see poor, old men, bent with age, their snowy hair and beards matching the ashen pallor of their faces, marching in to be locked up in their cells, with their withered left hand upon the shoulder of a once trusted clerk or a prominent society leader, or upon that of a man whose hardened features betokened that he deserved his fate and that it would be a menace to the community should he be at large.

But it was a harder and more pitiful sight to gaze upon, to see mere boys—children, you might say—marching in that sad line and bearing the stripes of disgrace upon their half-formed backs. The scene set the writer to thinking. This state maintains an orphan asylum, an insane asylum and a state prison. Why should it not provide a reformatory institution for our refractory girls and boys? A place where they can be put and taught to see the error of their ways, and not be forced to associate with criminals of the worst type, to emerge from the gloomy walls of Carson's penitentiary more hardened than when they entered. This is a long-felt want, which the Chronicle thinks the public should see that the next legislature fills.—Virginia Chronicle.
